The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington .- G. O. P. Sen. Homer Ferguson must be getting jittery over his election probe back in Michigan. At any rate something has thrown Homer's balance wheel out of gear. The other day, the Michigan senator, supposeed to be a great prosecutor and investigator; let it be known to the press that two years ago he had informed Attorney General Tom Clark about Judith Coplon, the justice department analyst recently caught handing government documents to a Russian diplomat in New York. The implication was that Clark had sat on his hands for two years while Miss Coplon got away with justice department

When Attorney General Clark heard of the Ferguson statement, he was, to say the least, flaggergasted, and sent word to the senator that he would give him 15 minutes to take back his statement.

Ferguson was quick to reply. He sat down and wrote Clark a humble longhand note taking back what he had said. The senator's excuse was that he had been misquoted. He had never said he gave information about Judith Coplon to Clark, nor did he state that he had demanded a probe of the matter, Ferguson wrote the attorney general.

Next day the attorney general happened to be upon Capitol Hill calling on the chairman of the senate judiciary committee, Pat McCarran of Nevada.

"Here's a letter that might interest you," remarked Senator McCarran, handing him typewritten letter on the stationery of Senator Ferguson.

In the letter, Ferguson said exactly what the newspapers quoted him as saying the night before, and which he had denied to Clark. Two years ago, wrote the Michigan senator, he had given the information about Judith Coplon to Clark, and now he demanded an investigation. Furthermore, he put all this in black and white.

The attorney general read the letter with

"Well, here's a letter he wrote me," he remarked, pulling out the handwritten note in which Ferguson said he had been misquoted.

McCarran read the note, then observed: "I thought there was something funny about Ferguson's phoning me last night. He wanted to know if I had received this let-The morning dawned cold and ter. Then he said: 'Well, don't give it out.
